

READ ACROSS AMERICA CELEBRATION, FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 2016

LAST YEAR WAS SUCH A SUCCESS, LET'S DO IT AGAIN!

The Challenge: Dress as a cool vocabulary word. Think about the word. What does it mean and what would that look like?

Why?: We celebrate all things reading on Dr. Seuss' birthday each year because he made great strides in making reading more accessible, fun, and interesting for children. His birthday is March 2 but, since that is a Monday, we will celebrate later in the week so all can remember..

Any Rules?: Please make sure that your child's outfit is safe for the building and follows our dress code. Can they still sit, see, and participate in all normal daily activities? Also, please be sure to have the word displayed, as in the example in the picture.

I am super excited about this day and hope to see lots of new words that we can add to our vocabularies! The bigger and fancier the word, the better!

Happy Reading,
Carrie Smith, Reading Coach
